PROJECT

MediConnect - A Healthcare app (UI Design) - September 2024

Overview:

- Created an app that helps patients easily book appointments based on real-time doctor availability and sends timely reminders to both patients and doctors to reduce no-shows. Designed a Figma prototype for a healthcare application aimed at making medical appointments and health record management simpler and more user-friendly.
- The system also securely manages user profiles, including patient medical history and doctor schedules, ensuring everything is well-organized and accessible when needed. It brings together appointment booking, profile management, and medical records in one place to streamline the entire healthcare experience.

Responsibilities:

I was responsible for gathering user requirements, creating wireframes, designing the user interface, and running usability tests to ensure the app was intuitive and efficient for both patients and healthcare providers.
